

Chapter III

THE INVASION OF THE PHILIPPINES

"At war's end at least 200,000 Filipinos died, many of famine; 4,000 U.S. soldiers were killed. The occupation set a pattern for future U.S. colonial adventures."

